My dear Wendy,

How I feel for you when reading your sad news. I couldn't quite believe it- although you must have been going through a tough time for months .At the very least you had some time to say goodbye.

It was a little strange that thoughts of you both popped into my head around the beginning of April. I was thinking that we had not had one of your fascinating communications for some time. I so enjoyed reading them and hearing about your exciting lives .Michael had such wonderful style of writing that made one feel as if one was traveling with him and I liked his wry observations too. I even came across three that I had kept, only the other day, when sorting out things for our impending house sale. He certainly was a very talented man and you made a splendid couple. Although his loss will be extremely hard for you, you are a very strong positive person too, You will have so many amazing memories to draw on, that many others would envy.

I would like you to know that I thought of you all on 24th April celebrating a life well lived. What a lovely idea to ask people to plant trees in his memory. We are likely to plant a tree in our new garden and will think of him.

My thoughts are with you as you adjust to your new life.

love

Lesley

My dearest Wendy';

Bless you for telling me personally

My thoughts are with you. You have such a fount of lovely memories.

Michael was the perfect gentleman and had the gift of drawing people to him. He is loved by so many people and brightened so many lives. It was a great privilege to have known him and your tremendously happy marriage

With much love

Elsie
